

Our clients expect the best workmanship coupled with exemplary professional service. This is why they choose Barron Development Corporation. Building a custom home is a unique and exciting adventure for any individual. With our team of professional architects and engineers, we transform your dreams into reality. Our dedicated team will assist you right from the beginning stages of your home's development and continue throughout the construction phases until the project is complete.

The owner of the home pictured here says, "My partner and I purchased a 1950s mid-century modern waterfront home in Hollywood, Fla., that was in need of major renovations and ultimately required near complete demolition. Our architect recommended Barron Development Corporation as a premier builder of custom luxury homes. The owner, Jim Barron, and his team walked us through the process from permits to completion. Barron Development Corporation fulfilled our dream and we are now able to enjoy our wonderful new home." — Peter Sullivan
